The 23rd annual convention of the Lutheran Sunday School Association of Bedford County convened in Trinity Lutheran church, Bedford, Tuesday evening. The exercises began with an anthem by a union choir, after which devotional services were conducted by Rev. J. W. Lingle. The address of welcome was made by Rev. M. L. Culler and responded to by Vice-President Alfred Gracy. President P. E. Colvin called the convention to order and appointed the following committees: Credentials, Charles H. Paul, Joseph P. C. Roberts, M. N. Stalley, Rev. J. H. Biddle, Esq., Cumberland Valley, and David E. Zimmerman, Bedford township.

Rev. George Leidy, of the Methodist Episcopal church, and Rev. H. B. Townsend, of the Presbyterian church, were elected advisory members of the convention and invited to participate in the discussions.

The subject for the evening was "What do we expect to accomplish by this or any convention, and why should there be denominational conventions?" Rev. J. H. Biddle opened the discussion. His remarks were not only interesting but they embraced the whole subject in clear and concise language.

The second session was opened with devotional services by Rev. M. L. Culler. Before the discussion of the subject for the morning began the following business was transacted: Reading of the minutes by the secretary, H. B. Mason; committee on report of schools appointed—J. F. Hiddle, Rev. M. L. Culler and Charles Sponer. Substitute on committee on credentials, John Amick.

The following subject was then discussed: "What has the church the right to expect from the Sunday school, and to what extent should it be expected to do?"

Alfred Gracy and M. N. Stalley were the principal speakers on this question and J. F. Hiddle, Esq., Rev. M. L. Culler, J. C. Roberts and P. E. Colvin participated in the general discussion.

The second subject, "The pastor's relation to and place in the Sunday school," was discussed by Rev. G. M. Brown, John Beckley, J. C. Roberts and Rev. Jones. This session, as well as the first session, was well attended, and interest grew more and more as the delegates looked on Wednesday morning.

Wednesday afternoon session. The devotional services for the third session were conducted by Rev. Jones. A committee on resolutions was organized, consisting of Rev. G. M. Brown, Baltzer Snyder and Henry Shaffer. The report on organization was read and the following officers were elected: President, P. E. Colvin; vice-president, Alfred Gracy; secretary, H. B. Mason; treasurer, W. W. Phillips. Rev. Jones opened the discussion "Where, when and how can the superintendent and teacher do their whole duty?"

Rev. B. Ockley, Rev. J. H. Biddle and Rev. Brown also took part in the subject. The next topic for discussion was "What is the greatest need of the Sunday school, better methods or better spirit?"

The speakers were Rev. Culler, Rev. H. B. Mason, Rev. Jones, Mr. Hiddle and John Letz.

Wednesday evening session. The last session of the convention was very well attended and seemed to be the climax of the entire session.

Excellent music was furnished by the union choir. The well known and accomplished tenor singer, Prof. Furry, accompanied by Miss L. D. Shuck, rendered music that was much appreciated. Devotional services were conducted by Rev. J. H. Biddle, followed by a business meeting, at which all the different reports were read and approved. The report on finance showed that the association is doing a good work and is voting sums of money every year for benevolent purposes.

The first subject, "The by the young men, the Sunday school, the church, may any one graduate, and at what age?" was opened by Rev. J. W. Lingle. John T. Matt and Harry C. Jones, Mr. Forst and J. C. Roberts, all took part in the discussion.

JOSEPH M. WOODS

Appointed President Judge of the Twentieth Judicial District.

MIFFLIN COUNTY LAWYER

Named to Fill the Vacancy Caused by the Death of Hon. John M. Bailey—His Will Survive until 1905.

HARRISBURG, October 28.—Governor Pennypacker has settled the contest for the judgeship in the Twentieth Judicial district by appointing ex-Senator Joseph M. Woods, of Mifflin county, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Bailey. The appointment came as a surprise, as it was supposed that either ex-Judge Jacob H. Longenecker, of Bedford, or W. W. Woods, of Huntington, would secure the prize. A quiet movement for the ex-Senator Woods developed in the past week and he was endorsed by the Mifflin County Bar; A. A. Stevenson, superintendent of the Standard Steel Works; John H. Converse, Morris Steel, John W. Woodside, Bayard Henry and Major Weaver, of Philadelphia; James McGee, of Philadelphia; John P. Taylor, Gen. Charles Miller, of Franklin, and Representative J. Lee Plummer, of Blair. The new judge will serve until the first Monday in January, 1905.

Hon. Joseph M. Woods, the newly appointed president judge of the Twentieth Judicial district, comprising Mifflin, Huntington and Bedford counties, was born in Lewisport in 1864, being a grandson of James S. Woods, who married the youngest daughter of John Witherspoon, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence and a pastor in the Presbyterian church for more than 40 years. The new judge is a nephew of the late Hon. S. S. Woods.

The above items of newness are but samples of many of like nature which the taxpayers of Bedford county are annually furnishing the money to subsidize.

Are they willing to continue? Elect C. C. Snell poor director and insure economy in the management of the almshouse affairs.

LICENSE MONIES

Taken Needlessly From People to Serve Politicians.

HOW PUBLIC REVENUES

Are Misappropriated—Funds That Ought to Be Kept in Local Treasuries Are Put into State Treasury and Returned.

By the act adopted by the Democratic convention which nominated the candidate for governor, the people for their franchise repudiate the present system of taxation as "burdensome and oppressive, and because it 'necessarily breeds extravagance.'"

Continuing it declares that "as at present administered it collects from the people unneeded revenues, passes them to the state treasury and then returns depleted portions to the localities in which they were collected. 'It results,' continues the document, 'in the accumulation of a large and unnecessary surplus in the state treasury for distribution among political or favored banks, and presents a constant temptation to extravagant appropriations and expenditures.'"

Among the items thus employed for political uses are the license fees. During the last fiscal year the mercantile, eating-house, billiard and other license taxes, including the licenses for the sale of liquors, amounted to $2,729,055. This vast sum was taken from the county treasuries and placed in the treasury of the state, a percentage being retained by the county treasurer as a fee for the services. After it has served the purpose of helping to swell and maintain the enormous surplus kept on hand for the benefit of the county brokers as a "time deposit" for a period, a portion of this surplus is returned to the county treasury, a percentage being again charged by the county treasurer for handling the money. The double handling of the funds and the double charge of the for amounts in the aggregate to a considerable sum, not less than $27,290,555. The amount drawn from each county by this process follows:

What Might Have Been Done. This fund left in the hands of the local treasurers would go a long way toward constructing and maintaining roadways in the several counties. The county of Berks or Cambria counties, for example, last year was $55,408.92. That sum, added to the amount which was expended and spent on road improvements annually for five years, would have made every important highway in that county. Doan's Kidney Pills,

A Modern Medicine for Every Kidney Ill.

My. William McLaughlin, of No. 642 South Duane street, Lancaster, Pa., says: "I first received my back give out when I was a letter carrier. I was constantly taking cold, and it developed into my back. I employed a doctor and took numerous kinds of medicine, but they failed to do me any good. When on the railroad the work made me worse. The pain was sharp in the small of my back, and at night when I went to bed it was terrible, and I often had to get up in the middle of the night. I consulted with my doctor, and he advised me to take Doan's Kidney Pills. After using them for four days I felt better. I continued until I was all over my trouble, and could hardly believe my eyes. I feel like a new man now. Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all druggists. 50 cents per box. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, N. Y."
